About Me (Summary)

I am a multidisciplinary young professional combining international relations expertise, technology, and creativity. Currently studying at the University of World Economy and Diplomacy, I am passionate about bridging diplomacy, innovation, and digital transformation.

As a Full-Stack Web Developer (Python, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Django, API, PostgreSQL) and Mobile Developer (Flutter), I design and build scalable digital solutions. Alongside my development work, I am also a Graphic Designer, creating innovative design projects and UI/UX solutions that seamlessly integrate functionality with aesthetics.

I am the founder of “Darmon” – a digital healthcare startup - and BaxaTech, an IT & e-commerce platform. Beyond IT, I am deeply engaged in youth leadership as a member of the Youth Parliament under the Senate of Uzbekistan and a volunteer of the Youth Affairs Agency.

With achievements in academics, sports, and social initiatives, I embrace the principle of “Knowledge, Responsibility, and Practical Results” as my personal motto.
